The Creative Communities Programme 2010-2011

The Creative Communities Unit at Staffordshire University is offering a wide range of awards and courses in 2010-2011. We have awards ranging from Master's degrees to undergraduate short courses. The courses run at a number of levels and have been designed to support the continuing professional development of people who work or volunteer in the community, voluntary or statutory sectors.

The courses are taught in convenient sessions spread out over several weeks so that they can be programmed into a busy work schedule. The short courses are self-contained and allow you to study at a level suitable for you. The way the programme is designed means that courses complement each other and students who choose to take more than one course can build their credits towards one of a number of awards.

You can visit our web page for more detailed information or request the full course brochure and application form. We would welcome the opportunity to talk the options through with you, so why not give us a call or come and visit us on our open day.

The Creative Communities Open Day and Free Taster Workshop

Wednesday 15 September 2010

Open Day in The Activity Space, Cadman Building, College Road

Drop in for a coffee and a chat 12 noon - 4 pm

Are you interested in joining one of our courses but not sure what you are letting yourself in for? Have a chance to experience some of our innovative teaching techniques by attending a free taster workshop as part of the open day.

The workshop, 'Current Developments in Youth and Community Work', will take place between 1pm and 2pm in The Learning Exchange, 2nd Floor Flaxman Building, College Road, Stoke. Please phone or email to book a place. A small number of car park spaces are available at College Road. Please phone or email to book.

For more information about the Open Day or about any of our courses, please visit our website www.staffs.ac.uk/community or contact
